General Grant.

A Philadelphia Long Branch special says it is reliably informed that General Grant is "solid" for Blaine. The General himself rebuffs inquiry by the vague statement that he is out of politics. He goes about very little. His Arabian horses and nearly all of his absolute property has gone to his creditors and he has nothing to live on now but the income which he receives from the estate of the late Governor Morgan. It was Morgan who most strongly favored the investment of the trust fund raised for the General in Wabash bonds, which he guaranteed for ten years. The bonds are now still at about 50 per cent. When the period for which the Morgan estate is bound shall have expired the General will have nothing, unless, what now seems impossible, there should be a return of prosperity to the Wabash. He feels his reverses keenly and seldom refers to them; nevertheless, the ravages of misfortune are clearly shown in his face and manners.

It has been reported that Mr. Blaine was to take the stump through the coming campaign. This is entirely without foundation. He does not intend to make any political speeches whatever. Following the Maine gubernatorial election, he will probably take a trip through the West, but will probably abstain from making speeches.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE.

It is evident that there will not be any agreement at this session of Congress between the Senate and the House of Representatives on the question of inter-State commerce. The House, by a large majority, has declared in favor of the principle that there shall be no higher rates for short than for long hauls. The Senate, last Saturday, defeated an amendment of this nature, offered by Slater, and which was intended to incorporate in the Senate railroad bill the main provision of the so-called Reagan bill. The Senate is also decidedly in favor of a commission to regulate the railroads, and has provided for one of nine members, requiring that not more than five of them shall belong to one political party. The differences between the two houses can hardly be reconciled, unless the House will accept the Senate bill rather than not have any legislation on the subject. The rights of the people, meantime, are outraged. They have the right to insist upon Congress speedily perfecting some legislation which will prevent the railroads from discriminating against persons and places, and in making reasonable charges, instead of taking all the traffic will bear. The question has been up before Congress for the last ten years. It is time it was settled, and in the interest of the people.

The Colorado Senatorship.

DENVER, Jan. 17.—A Republican Senatorial caucus was held this evening. As soon as the organization was completed a motion was made that the caucus proceed to vote for United States Senator viva voce, and was carried by five majority. Thereupon 17 Hill men left the chamber, four remaining, but not voting. On the first ballot Secretary H. M. Teller received 28, H. A. W. Taber 2, Senator N. P. Hill 1. Teller was declared the nominee of the caucus. The Hill men claim not to be bound by the action of the caucus, and will make a fight in the joint session and in both Houses, but to win must have nearly if not the whole of the Democratic vote.

At a Deadlock.

The Thirteenth Legislative Assembly of Arizona, which has been in session since Monday morning, the 12th inst., trying to perfect an organization, is at a perfect deadlock in both branches. The House has elected a temporary Speaker, and cast over thirty ballots for a permanent Speaker without success. The Council has been balloting for five days for temporary president, also without success. The Council is a tie, six Republicans and six Democrats, and the House is a tie, owing to one Republican joining the Democrats and voting with them.

President McMillan, of the Deer Lodge college, in Montana, in the course of an excellent address before the Territorial Teachers' Institute in that Territory, recently, speaks strongly of the too common practice of over taxing children of a precocious turn of mind with a superabundance of studies. Mr. McMillan says:

"Teachers who know nothing of the powers of physical or mental endurance overtax the brain, impair the physical and mental constitution, produce nervous wrecks, and thus become responsible to God for a ruined soul, to a fellow being for blighting his happiness for all time to come, to the parent for withering his fondest hopes, to society for throwing upon it an irritable, peevish member, to some future husband for a scolding wife, or to some future wife for the affliction of a petulant, lordly husband, to a future family for an ill-natured, tyrannical parent, and to the State a hot-headed and unruly citizen.

Or overtaxing the tender brain of youth may have the contrary effect, of supplanting all future energy and enterprise with dull stupidity or a listless equanimity. In either case the ruin is complete and the guilt must lie upon the perpetrator of the mischief."

Appropriation Bills.

The fact that about forty working days of the present session of Congress remain, and that none of the regular appropriation bills for the next fiscal year have been passed, has led to considerable speculation as to an extra session of Congress. The leading Democratic members of the Senate and House say that there will be no extra session and nothing in the condition of the appropriation bills at the present time indicates that any of them will fail of passage before the 4th of March. The Democratic leaders in both houses of Congress are opposed to an extra session; and will do anything in the world to avoid it. Of course, if any one of the regular appropriation bills should fail of passage the chances are that an extra session will be called, but the condition of business in the House Appropriation Committee is such as to leave a reasonable doubt that all the appropriations will be made before the adjournment of Congress. The Military Academy bill has passed both Houses and is now in the Conference Committee; the pension and consular and diplomat bills have passed the House and gone to the Senate; the Indian appropriation bill is now under consideration in the committee of the whole in the House; the naval bill has been reported from the sub-committee to the full committee; the army postoffice and District of Columbia appropriation bills will be reported to the full committee from the sub-committee the next few days, and the committees expect to have the navy, army, postoffice and District of Columbia bills all in the House before the end of the week. The other appropriation bills are being considered by the sub-committee in charge, and will be ready for consideration by the full committee as the others are disposed of.

Neilson Sues Senator Sharon for $100,000.

W. M. Neilson has begun an action in the San Francisco Superior Court against Senator Sharon for the recovery of $100,000 damages. The complaint alleges "that defendant appeared before the Grand Jury in November, 1883, and charged that the plaintiff did falsely swear that defendant was lawfully married to one Sarah Althea Hill, and that he, the plaintiff, did forge a certain contract of marriage between defendant and said S. A. Hill, and that the plaintiff did unlawfully conspire with and aid said Hill in her claim to be the wife of defendant, and then and there defendant, by his statements, advise and influence, and by sundry unlawful means and devices, induced said Grand Jury to find three indictments against plaintiff, to-wit: One for forgery, one for perjury and one for conspiracy." Neilson also complains that he was arrested under said indictments and restrained of his liberty for more than twelve hours; that said charges of perjury, forgery and conspiracy were false and malicious, and were subsequently dismissed in Court; that said charges, indictments and arrests were extensively published, and that plaintiff has thus been injured in his good name and credit, and been brought into public disgrace. He accordingly prays judgment in the sum of $100,000 damages.

Although 1884 has been marked by no startling mechanical discoveries or inventions, it has been a year of steady and valuable mechanical progress, and the engineer will look back to it as one marked by sterling work. Inventions of a revolutionary character are by no means to be welcomed as the most valuable means of advancing. More work has usually to be done after the inventor has finished than was necessary in making the invention. It may be said that 1884 was engaged in bringing into shape the work of other years; hence, in making notes in regard to the work of the year, little of a startling or novel character is to be noted. Some grand schemes have been proposed, and some very wonderful announcements made, but their fulfillment has not yet come.

Chamberlain, Bender and Van Dyke Hubbard had splendid luck fishing at Salva a day or two ago, their catch amounting to 140 pounds. The river is alive with trout, and they are running up as far as Clark's. They will be up this way soon.

THE PILGRIMS.

Romance and Poetry in the Lives of the Old-Timers.

Ex-Governor Long of Massachusetts made a witty speech on Forefathers' Day, from which the following are some extracts:

"You think there was no softness or merriment in their lives, but you forget that John Alden looked into the eyes of Priscilla Mullens and walked with her in the lovers' lanes of the forest primeval. You forget to catch the laugh with which Mary Chilton, ancestress of Copland and Lindhurst, waded from the boat to the shore, first woman of them all to put her dainty foot on American soil. You forget the romance of Alice Southworth's coming later over from England to marry the young widower Bradford, who had loved her when a girl among the English hawthorns. You forget that the Pilgrim's was the first New England home, God bless it; the rural home that you and I came from, over whose door the roses grew in our youth; fading there, but fresh and fragrant always here in our hearts. You forget that there was among them no ordained minister; happy parish! and that Brewster, who led their devotion, was a man of courts, a bearer of Queen Elizabeth's dispatches. You pity them for a life of more than provincial narrowness of affairs. Your forget that Winslow, a man of the world and of travel in foreign parts, was an ambassador and diplomat negotiating treaties with Massachusetts; that he was four times sent over the sea to England—what man at this board can equal that record?—to arrange the relations of the Old World with the New, and that he died in the service of Cromwell, superintending the invasion of the West Indies. [Applause.] Picture the Colonial Governor Bradford in his long cloak marching to meeting of a Sunday morning, flanked on one side by Brewster the saint, and on the other by Standish the soldier. Compared with that what is the 4th of March inauguration of a President flanked on both sides by expectants? [Applause.] Think of their stately excursions through the virgin forests, their quieting of Indian troubles, their adventurous sailing expeditions to explore Massachusetts Bay, the wind fresh, the waves rippling in the sunshine, the freedom of a new world in their hearts, and anon opening on their gaze the mouth of the Charles and the Mystic, and the three hills of Boston, silent then, but never silent since. Think of their discreet squelching of the Independents, who were at that time rioting at Merry Mount, in Quincy, and who, by the way, still infest that vicinity even to this day, as my own imperiled scalp bears witness. [Cheering.] These Pilgrims were men who were greater than the restrictions of English life, who were broader than the bucketering and traffic of their Holland tarrying place, and who therefore fled, both gasping for larger breath. There were no narrow Puritans who vexed themselves over questions of method or form or discipline in the church. They broke altogether from the church itself, were separatists and set up their own establishment for themselves and for the New World—themselves an evangel of religious and civil liberty. No Puritans they, intolerant of another's faith, but great-hearted Liberals, welcoming Roger Williams, the original Mugwump. [Laughter.] When driven from Salem he came to them, but found his own sweet will so dull that, like a real Mugwump, his restless soul soon wearied of its own freedom, and he turned to the intolerant fold that had driven him forth, as Mugwumps sooner or later always do return, and as intolerant folds sooner or later always do take them back. [Applause.] Sympathy for the hardship of the Pilgrim Fathers! They would laugh at you. They never dreamed of yielding or of going or looking back. Why, it were worth a thousand years, a cycle of Cathay, to have breathed the air with them, to have put one's name to that cabin compact, to have planted that colony. Compare their great enterprise and range with selling stocks in Wall street, with the strife of bulls and bears, with winning or losing a Presidential race, and in either case being trampled on and run over by 60,000,000 howling American citizens, clergymen included [applause]; or with achieving the fume of figuring in the colored prints of Puck or Jingo. Our lives are comparatively humdrum—prose or cheap doggerel. There was a poem. They were idealists, poets, zealots; but it was that germinating and rich idealism which flowers out in the world's glory and beneficence. If it was poetry, it was poetry that lives after them, in a larger vitality and range. Its music is not a far-off strain. It is confined to a stone's throw from the rock on which they set foot. It rolls across a Continent, from sea to sea. It explores the frozen zone, and just now woos and wins the Nicaragua Isthmus. It is poetry, indeed, but the poetry of industry, of growth, of the school, and farm, and shop, and ship, and car.

Thyes & Co. are behind nobody in improvements, cleanliness, good order and everything else that go to make up a first-class place of resort.

The Oregon Senatorship.

The first week of the Oregon Legislature closed with no possibility of foreseeing the result of the main issue, which is the election of a United States Senator in place of Slater, whose term expires in March. Voting on this question will not begin till next Tuesday, owing to the failure of the House to fully organize on the first day of the meeting. The prominent candidates are ex-Senator John H. Mitchell, State Senator Sol. Hirsch, Representative George and Henry Failing, a banker of Portland.

The Field Boomers Return.

Thursday evening's west-bound train brought ex-Lieutenant Governor Johnson, Judge Selden S. Wright, Col. Stuart M. Taylor, and Jim Farrelly, ex-Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly, all of California, who returned from the Chicago Convention, where their mission was to endeavor to secure the nomination of Judge Field. Of course they were disappointed at the result, or want of result, of their efforts which were well directed, but which were neutralized by the extraordinary instructions under which the California delegation were hampered. None of them were enthusiastic over the ticket, although, as in duty bound, they declared their belief in its election.

Judge Wright said candidly "The fight is in a nutshell. If you Republicans carry New York you will win it. We have to carry New York, Connecticut and Delaware and that will probably be the fight. It will not be a walk over for any one, but it will be one of the hardest fought contests the country has ever seen."

Ex-Governor Johnson said that Field would probably have won the nomination but for the attitude of the California delegation. The feeling in Chicago was kindly toward Field and had he been in a position early in the fight, he might have stepped in between Cleveland and Flower and got the New York delegation. The California delegation could accomplish nothing under their instructions and most of them realized the humiliating position in which their State Convention had placed them.

Jim Farrelly, when asked about the course of the California delegation, said in his characteristic way "D—n those fellows; this ought to cure 'em of sucking eggs."

Joe Irwin, of the Morning Call, was also on the train, on his return from a visit to Canada.

Crossing the Plains.

Two emigrant teams arrived in Reno yesterday morning from Jackson county, Oregon, en route to Colorado. They started from Oregon with the intention of crossing the plains in the old fashioned style, but concluded on their arrival here to dispose of their teams, if they can find a purchaser, and complete their journey by rail. They are now camped at Bates' ranch, and will remain there a few days in hopes to dispose of their outfit.

A Change of Base.

Harry Clawson, proprietor of the Railroad Hotel at Los Angeles, passed west last evening on his way home from Ogden. He has made arrangements to dispose of his hotel business at Los Angeles and on the first of August take charge of the Railroad eating house at Ogden, which is regarded as one of the most important stations on the line of the road.

Harvest Dance.

Charley Moeller, of Steamboat, was in town yesterday. He has decided to give a harvest dance at the springs sometime next month, when there is plenty of moonlight. Due notice of the time will be given and a special train will go out for the accommodation of Reno people.

Cheap Postage.

The Reno Postmaster has just received official notification of the reduction in newspaper postage to one cent for four ounces or fraction thereof. The law has been in effect for some time but the Reno office had not been officially notified of the fact before.

Geo. W. Bryant, late Melter and Refiner of the Carson Mint, was a passenger for his home at Riverside, California, by last evening's train. He informed a reporter that his successor, Mr. Stephens, qualified yesterday and assumed the duties and responsibilities of the office. Mr. Bryant leaves the State this time for good.

Attached to last evening's west-bound train was the car "Cumberland" of the Canadian International Railway. It was of the new style, with state-rooms in the center and a drawing-room in the rear, and was occupied by Messrs. Chopalons and Church, two high Canadian officials who are on their way to British Columbia.

The Sheriff of Humboldt County passed through Reno yesterday to Winnemucca with C. Bernard, the prisoner who escaped jail at that place some weeks ago. He captured his man at Jamison, in Plumas County.

Geo. W. Mapes is now the sole owner of the old Manning & Duck building on Commercial Row, having just purchased the interest of the heirs of the estate of Duck. He bought the other half a year ago.

There is now quite a rush from several mining camps in Eastern Nevada to Wood river, Idaho.

Hon. William Alvord, President of the Bank of California, passed West last evening.

P. H. Mulcahy, Manager of the San Francisco Soap Company, has arranged to increase the capacity of the factory by the addition of a monster cauldron, capable of holding 20,000 pounds of material. This addition is rendered necessary in order to meet the demands of the trade.

Mary E. Ross has filed in the District Court an application asking that L. N. Breed be granted letters of Administration in the estate of Robt. E. Ross, deceased. The application is set for hearing July 26th.

A miniature cyclone passed over the western portion of town yesterday afternoon, filling the air in its pathway with old boxes, tin cans and all kinds of rubbish, but fortunately did no material damage.

The new Congregational minister will arrive in Reno from the East in time to preach his first sermon on the first Sunday in August.

Mrs. Julia Cain has filed an application to sell the personal property belonging to the estate of the late Mr. Cain.

PLATFORM OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Adopted by the National Republican Convention at Chicago.

The Republicans of the United States, in national convention assembled, renew their allegiance to the principles upon which they have triumphed in six successive Presidential elections and congratulate the American people on the attainment of so many results in legislation and administration, by which the Republic has gained its strength by a quick and faithful response to the demands of the people for freedom and equality of all men for a united nation, assuring the rights of all citizens, for the elevation of labor, for an honest currency, for purity in legislation and for integrity and accountability in all the departments of the Government, and it accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reform.

We lament the death of President Garfield, whose sound statesmanship, long conspicuous in Congress, gave promise of a strong and successful administration, a promise fully realized during the short period of his office as President of the United States. His distinguished success in war and peace has endeared him to the hearts of the American people. In the administration of President Arthur we recognize a wise, conservative and patriotic policy, under which the country has been blessed with remarkable prosperity. We believe his eminent services are entitled to and will receive the hearty approval of every citizen.

It is the first duty of a good Government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people. The largest diversity of industry is most productive of general prosperity and the comfort and independence of the people, the taxpayers, without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country.

We recognize the importance of sheep husbandry in the United States, the serious depression which it is now experiencing, and the danger threatening its future prosperity, and we therefore respect the demands of the representatives of this important agricultural interest for the readjustment of the duty upon foreign wool, in order that such industry shall have full and adequate protection. We therefore demand that the imposition of duties on foreign imports shall be made not for revenue only, but that in raising the requisite revenue for the Government such duties shall be so levied as to afford security to our diversified industries and protection to the rights and wages of the laborer, to the end that active and intelligent labor, as well as capital, may have its just reward, and the laboring man his full share in the national prosperity.

Against the so-called economic system of the Democratic party, which would degrade our labor to the foreign standard, we enter our earnest protest. The Democratic party has failed completely to relieve the people of the burden of unnecessary taxation by a wise reduction of the surplus. The Republican party pledges itself to correct the irregularities of the tariff and reduce the surplus, not by the vicious and indiscriminate process of horizontal reduction, but by such methods as will relieve the taxpayer without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country. The Republican party favors a policy which shall keep us from entangling alliances with foreign nations and which gives us the right to expect that foreign nations shall refrain from meddling in American affairs. The policy which seeks peace can trade with all Powers, but especially with those of the Western Hemisphere.

We demand the restoration of our navy to its old-time strength and efficiency, that it may in any sea protect the rights of American citizens and the interests of American commerce, and we call upon Congress to remove the burdens under which American shipping has been depressed, so that it may again be true that we have a commerce.

It is the duty of Congress to enact such laws as shall promptly and effectually suppress the system of polygamy within our Territories, and divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power of the so-called Mormon Church, and that the laws so enacted should be rigidly enforced by the civil authorities, if possible, and by the military, if need be.

The people of the United States, in their organized capacity, constitute a nation and not a mere confederacy of States. The National Government is supreme within the sphere of its national duty, but the States have reserved rights which should be faithfully maintained.

We have always recommended the best money known to the civilized world, and we urge that efforts should be made to unite all the commercial nations in the establishment of an international standard, which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage.

The regulations of commerce with foreign nations and between the States is one of the most important prerogatives of the general Government, and the Republican party distinctly announces its purpose to support such legislation as will fully and efficiently carry out the constitutional power of Congress over interstate commerce.

The principle of the public regulation of railroad corporations is a wise and salutary one for the protection of all classes of the people, and we favor legislation that shall prevent unjust discrimination and excessive charges for transportation, and that shall secure to the people and the railways alike the fair and equal protection of the laws.

We favor the establishment of a national bureau of labor, the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and a wise and judicious system of general education by adequate appropriations from the national revenue where the same is needed.

We believe that everywhere the protection accorded to citizens of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption, and we favor the settlement of national differences by international arbitration.

The Republican party, having its birth in a hatred of slave labor and a desire that all men may be truly free and equal, is unalterably opposed to placing our workmen in competition with any form of servile labor, whether at home or abroad. In this spirit we denounce the importation of contract labor, whether from Europe or Asia, as an offense against the spirit of American institutions, and we pledge ourselves to sustain the present law restricting Chinese immigration and to provide such further legislation as is necessary to carry out its purposes.

The reform of the civil service auspiciously begun under Republican administration should be completed by the further extension of the reform system already established by law to all grades of the service to which it is applicable. The spirit and purpose of the reform should be observed in all executive appointments and all laws at variance with the object of existing reform legislation should be repealed, to the end that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectively avoided.

The public lands are a heritage of the people of the United States and should be reserved, as far as possible, for small holdings by actual settlers. We are opposed to the acquisition of large tracts of these lands by corporations or individuals, especially where such holdings are in the hands of non-resident aliens, and we will endeavor to obtain such legislation as will tend to correct this evil. We demand of Congress the speedy forfeiture of all land grants which have lapsed by reason of non-compliance with the acts of incorporation, in all cases where there has been no attempt in good faith to perform the conditions of such grants.

The perpetuity of our institutions rests upon the maintaining of a free ballot, honest count and correct returns. We denounce the fraud and violence practiced by the Democratic party in the Southern States, by which the will of the voter is defeated, as dangerous to the preservation of our free institutions, and we solemnly arraign the Democratic party as being the guilty recipient of the fruits of such fraud and violence. We extend to the Republicans of the South, regardless of their former party affiliations, our cordial sympathy, and pledge to them our most earnest efforts to promote the passage of such legislation as will secure to every citizen of whatever race and color the full and complete recognition, possession and exercise of his civil and political rights.

Appointments by the President to offices in the Territories should be made from bona fide citizens and residents of the Territories wherein they are to serve.

The grateful thanks of the American people are due to the Union soldiers and sailors of the late war, and the Republican party stands pledged to provide suitable pension for all who were disabled and for the widows and orphans of those who died in the war. The Republican party also pledges itself to the repeal of the limitation contained in the Arrears of Pensions Act of 1879, so that all invalid soldiers shall share alike and their pensions begin within the date of disability or discharge and not with the date of the application.
